

What Does Jajum Bajara Mean?

In Jandai language, Jajum means child/bub and Bajara means footsteps.

This name represents bub's journey and how family and community guide them along their way to adulthood.

Yulu-Burri-Ba

Aboriginal Corporation
for Community Health

"Through these footsteps we honour our Elders who have gone before us, acknowledge those guiding us now and grow our tomorrow."

A maternal and infant health care service for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander families living in the Bayside region.

Jajum Bajara

JAJUM BAJARA HELPS ABORIGINAL AND TORRES STRAIT ISLANDER MOTHERS WITH:

- Midwifery group practice (MGP) with 24/7 access to pregnancy, birthing and postnatal care provided by the same midwife.
- Support from Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Family Support Workers which includes:
  - Assistance to attend your appointments
  - Supports for emotional and social needs
  - Assistance to access financial supports
  - Providing advocacy with other services
- Transport services to access care
- Providing access to Yulu-Burri-Ba services including GP, Child Health Nurse, Specialists, Allied Health and Dental
- Monthly community days with activities such as arts and craft, yarning with other mums and advice on various topics

Jajum Bajara is based on an internationally recognised and evidence-based Birthing in our Community (BIOC) model of care.

The model integrates the midwifery services and expertise of Redland Hospital Maternity with the cultural knowledge and clinical expertise of Yulu-Burri-Ba and Institute for Urban Indigenous Health, enabling a unique approach to service delivery.

AM I ELIGIBLE TO PARTICIPATE?

YES, IF YOU ARE:

- A person pregnant with an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander bub
- Living in the Redland and Wynnum region and planning to have your bub at Redland Hospital
- Currently a client of Yulu-Burri-Ba Aboriginal Community Controlled Health or willing to become a client of Yulu-Burri- Ba Aboriginal Community Controlled Health

HOW TO GET REFERRED TO JAJUM BAJARA PROGRAM?

GP referral

- Book appointment with your GP
- GP will complete a referral
- Inform your GP that you would like to be placed on the Jajum Bajara program
- Ensure your GP has indicated you or bub identify as an Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander

Next Steps: A midwife or Family Support Worker from the program will contact you to yarn about the program and organise a date and time for your "booking in visit".
