Disability Services

LOOKING AFTER ALL OF OUR MOB

Providing access and care for Mob with a disability in southeast Queensland.

We're here for Mob

Disability Services guides Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people and their immediate family through our pathway of assessment and care.

Our deadly team will walk alongside you to look after your wellbeing in your way, so your story is respected.

Who we are

The Disability Services team is Community.

Our team of support coordinators, in-home supports, allied health professionals and other workers come from Community.

Our services

Navigating and accessing the NDIS and the QCSS

For Mob living in southeast Queensland, we can support you and your family as you navigate the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS) application process and the Queensland Community Support Scheme (QCSS).

Support coordination

We can support you in understanding your NDIS plan, as well as connect you to the services and programs available, or to be identified in your plan.

Allied health services

We can connect you to UIH's network of allied health professionals to support your health and wellbeing, including occupational therapists, speech therapists, physiotherapists, podiatrists, dietitians, social workers, exercise physiologists and therapy assistants.

In-home supports*

We can support you with:

- housework – including preparing meals, cleaning and household chores
- personal care – such as showering and getting dressed.

Community access supports*

We can provide support with shopping, transport, health appointments and attending social or community events.

*In-home support services and community access supports can be provided for Mob living in the Moreton Bay region and Brisbane's northside. For Mob living elsewhere in southeast Queensland, Disability Services can connect you to other service providers.

Who can access our services?

Access to the NDIS

Access pathways and support is free for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people 0 to 65 years of age and their families, who have:

- a disability
- chronic illness or a complex mental health condition
- circumstances that impact their ability to live independently in the community.

If you meet the access requirements, you will receive an NDIS plan and will be able to access the services below.

Disability Services

The Disability Services team will use your NDIS plan to provide supports to you and your family.

For support coordination and allied health services with the Disability Services team, you need to have:

- a disability
- a current NDIS plan (which we can support you with obtaining).
